THE BENEFICIARIES OF A GOOD MAN.

A great many persons in Wisconsin, especially in the southern part of the state, are deeply interested in the welfare of Beloit college; and there is much rejoicing over the good fortune which has come to the college during the present summer. Much has been said in the newspapers, on the streets, and in work-shops, and in the homes of the people, about the splendid deeds of the Christian gentleman who has just given $100,000 to the college of which Rock county, and in fact the whole state, should feel proud; and the Gazette is assured that its readers will read with interest a brief outline of the generous gift—Dr. Daniel K. Pearson, of Chicago.

Dr. Pearson is 69 years old, and was born in Vermont. When he was a young man struggling for an education in his native state, he made a pledge that he would work for a fortune with which to either endow or build colleges. He began by teaching school, then graduating in a medical course, and after practicing medicine at Chicopee, in Massachusetts, for a few years, he tried farming in Ogle county, Illinois, and in 1858 he settled in Chicago and engaged in the real estate business. He began to deal in pine lands and in stocks and bonds and in time became a millionaire.

During the past few years Dr. Pearson has devoted much of his time to charity and travel. The promise of his youth has not been broken. Within a half a dozen years he has given away over $700,000, and his pocketbook is still open. Among the more important of his benefactions are $100,000 to Beloit college, $100,000 to Lake Forest university, $50,000 to Knox; $50,000 to Chicago theological seminary; $50,000 to the Presbyterian seminary; $50,000 to the Presbyterian hospital; $50,000 to the Young Men's Christian association, and $20,000 to the Women's Board of Foreign missions, besides $250,000 in various other ways and in smaller sums.

All these gifts have been made during the last spring and the present summer. There is a good deal of the spirit of Peter Cooper in Dr. Pearson. The former, when a young man and poor, without a home, and without friends or influence, was searching for work in New York city, promised himself that some day he would be rich and would build an institution for the instruction and elevation of the working classes of the city of New York. He became a millionaire, and like Dr. Pearson never permitted his riches to turn his head or to make him proud, and he far more than fulfilled his promise. Dr. Pearson is a quiet, unostentatious man full of simplicity, and he does many rare deeds that the world knows nothing of.

WELL, DONE, MONONA!

A despatch from Madison informs that Lake Monona assembly will here, after making its own affairs to suit itself, being absorbed from all allegiance to the Chautauque assembly. This is commendable grit and laudable enterprise. The explanation is this, found in a Madison despatch.

The whole trouble arose from the Wisconsin association deciding hereafter to make out its own programme, instead of leaving it to the director of exercises employed from Chautauque as in the past. The association adopted this plan last year, the Chautauque people claiming that one year would bring them back to the former method. The Monona management was so well pleased, however, with the future prospects of what it struck to the idea of spending its own money as best suited it. The first intimation of dissatisfaction was the refusal of Dr. Hurlbut, of Chautauque, to officiate as director this year, and opinions were subsequently strengthened by receiving word from Dr. Vincent and other Chautauqueans who had been engaged for this year's programme that they would be unable to come. It is estimated by some of the interested persons that the Chautauque management has been working a very worldly scheme heretofore by securing engagements for prominent lecturers at various assemblies during the summer at fancy prices, on condition that they lecture at Chautauque for nothing or nearly nothing. At any rate the Monona assembly will henceforth engage its talent itself, and it is noticeable that this summer the programme is more attractive in the way of prominent speakers than any of its predecessors.

The thousands of friends of the Monona assembly will be glad to hear that it does not propose to play second fiddle to Chautauque, nor dance to the music furnished by that association. Monona is doing a good work. It is a strong association. It is managed by such men as Elihu Colman and James E. Moseley, men who earnestly desire that Monona Lake assembly shall have for its chief purpose the uplifting of the spiritual and the intellectual man, with this purpose alone in view, the assembly is prospering in the right direction, and it deserves all the success it has won.

A SUNDAY IN CHICAGO.

Chicago is cursed as some other cities are with a Sunday law that is a disgrace to the civilization of this country. It is an insult to the moral sense of the country, and is growing worse and not better. Here is a picture of the day drawn by the Chicago Times, a paper that is doing very much for the cause of moral reform in the city of Chicago:

"Sunday in Chicago is the biggest day of the week for the distillers, brewers, saloon-keepers, and pot-house loafers. It has grown to be essentially their day."

IT IS THEIRS BY RIGHT OF CONQUEST AND POSSESSION.

"They had held a claim upon it for many years, but they secured a clear right and indisputable title to it at the last city election. To them the question whether the saloon might 'run wide open' on Sundays was the one to be decided by ballot at that election, and, as it appears to them now, was settled in their favor.

"You must bear in mind to-morrow that it is Sunday if you happen to walk or ride through any of the business arteries of the south, west, or north sides if you don't you are likely to be thrown off your guard. During the week days there are screens across the doors. Sundays these screens are taken down in token of the fact that everything is running wide open in Chicago.

"It will be a great day for the toughs, thugs, thieves, blacklegs, loafers, and saloon-keepers to-morrow if it befalls. 'Decent people should remain in-doors Sundays for the present.'"

Colonel George E. Warring, in a paper read before the Medical association at Newport last week, claiming that the death rate of eighteen to 1,000 in this country was one-third too high, and that by proper sanitary regulations the death rate could be reduced to twelve to the 1,000. This means an unnecessary loss of life in this country, amounting to 360,000 lives every year.

The point is whether the unsteady and injudicious habits of many people, or the lack of sanitary regulations of cities, contribute most to the death rate. From reports, it seems that the former is more destructive than the latter.

The acquittal of Captain Dawson's murderer demonstrates that assassination is as safe in South Carolina, where the perpetrators of the crime are brought to trial, as it is in Arkansas, where they are never arrested.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Well, it seems that assassination is tolerably safe in Wisconsin. One doesn't have to go to Charleston to see justice outraged. Waupaca is only a hundred and fifty miles from here.

It will be noticed that some of the democratic papers are frequently patting the prohibitionists on the back. Is it because they love the prohibitionists or because they want to encourage the third party in the hope that it will draw from the republican party and thereby aid the democracy? Now be honest, and tell us the motive.

A man seventy years old and his son who live in San Francisco, traveled all the way from that city to Louisiana to see the Sullivan-Kilrain prize fight. The son is bringing up the father in the way the son wants to go.

Thirty grains of truth in the following from the Chicago Times: The destruction of 52,000 gallons of fresh beer threw a mantle of gloom over the Fourth of July festivities in Milwaukee.

William E. Curtis, the noted journalist and correspondent, has written a long and illustrated article on the "City of Smells." This must be an interesting article on Chicago.

They say that the leaning tower of Pisa is for sale. Probably Chicago can buy it.

Three Rebellions a Day.

Three rebellions, obstinate, though bloodless, occur in the stomach of the dyspeptic who partakes of food three a day. The digestive organs refuse on each occasion to perform the duty assigned to it by nature, and trouble ensues. How discipline, how regulate it? Simply with a wineglassful of the genial, invigorating and appetizing, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters before each meal and before retiring. Digestion will, after a course of this pleasant regulator, become easy, and its fore-runner, appetite, also improve. Nervousness and insomnia, always induced by chronic dyspepsia, will disappear with its disappearance, thus insured, and constipation and biliousness, its usual attendants, also take their leave. Not only will the system acquire strength, but also substance by a more perfect assimilation of the food. Rheumatism, malaria and kidney complaint and neuralgia yield to the Bitters.

SKY-ROCKETS.

The Manufacture of a Popular Fourth of July Fire-Work.
Rockets are made for three purposes, says Lieut. W. R. Hamilton in St. Nicholas—for: 1st, signaling, for decorations or celebration, or as projectiles in war. For signals the charge consists of 12 parts of nitre, 2 of sulphur, and 3 of charcoal. The ornamental or decorative rocket is made of the composition of which it is made comprises 122 parts of nitre, 40 of sulphur, and 40 of charcoal. The main part of the rocket is a case, made by rolling stout paper, covered on one side with paste, around a wooden form, at the same time applying considerable pressure. The end is then "choked" or brought tightly together with twine. The paper case thus made is next placed in a copper mold so that a conical copper spindle will pass up through the choke and the composition is then poured in and packed by blows of a mallet on a copper drift or packing tool made to fit over the spindle. The top of the case is now closed with a layer of moist plaster-of-paris one inch thick, perforated with a small hole for the passage of the flame to the upper part or "pot." The pot is formed of an anchor paper cylinder slipped over and pasted to the top of the case and surmounted by a paper cone filled with tow. The "decorations" are placed in the pot and are scattered through the air when the flame, having passed through the aperture of the plaster, reaches a small charge of meal powder, placed in the pot. The stick is a piece of pine wood, tapering, and about nine times the length of the rocket. It is to guide the rocket in its flight. The decorations in the pot may be "stars," "serpents," "maroons," "gold-rain," and so on. "Maroons" are small paper shells filled with grained powder and primed with quick-match. "Serpents" are small cases about 1/2 inch in diameter in which is a composition of 3 parts nitre, 3 sulphur, 10 meal powder, 1 charcoal. This composition is driven in the case, the top of which is closed by plaster-of-paris, having a small aperture through which passes a piece of quick-match.

A HORRIBLE ROBBERY.

SHOCKING WORK OF MINNEAPOLIS HIGHWAYMEN.

Henry Hague Blinded with Vitrol, Taken to the Woods and Robbed of $20,000.—Other Crimes.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., July 8.—Henry Hague, a middle-aged man from New York, lies at the point of death, the victim of the boldest, cruellest, and most successful highway robbery ever committed in Minnesota.

The story is true, and investigation by the police fully substantiates the statements, he was set upon and robbed in broad daylight within a stone's throw of the Monroe street car line of over $20,000 in cash, negotiable securities, and valuable baggage. Hague, who is the patron of an improved force which he has been selling largely throughout the Northwest, was in possession of a large sum of money, the result of a life's industry, when he arrived in Minneapolis about four weeks ago. He came here for the purpose of marrying Miss Rena Dysart, the daughter of James Dysart, an event which was to have taken place in a few days.

About 9 o'clock Tuesday morning Hague, who has been with Mr. Dysart, during his stay in the city, left the house for the purpose of getting shaved. The shop is about three blocks from the house. After entering the shop he noticed that no barber was there and started on his way home. He got as far as the corner of Harrison and Twenty-fifth street when he was accosted by a man unknown to him. The stranger replied: "Nothing in particular. I intended to get a shave, but there is no one at the shop."

The stranger replied: "That's all right; come around to the house and I'll shave you." Nothing being suspected Mr. Hague accompanied the stranger. They walked as far as the alley on Twenty-fifth street and were just stepping into the alley when the newly made acquaintance dashed a quantity of vitrol in Hague's face. In the alley, but a few feet from where it opened into the street, stood a closed carriage in which were several accomplices of the pretended barber. The last thing Hague remembers is that he saw the carriage and in less time than it takes to say it he received the dash of vitrol and a blow on the head. While it is not positively known that he was carried away in this particular carriage there is every reason to believe that he was. He had the carriage at their disposal. Hague was taken out in the woods a distance of about ten miles from the scene of the attack.

After robbing him of about $20,000 the brutes bound him hand and foot and tied him to a tree. The next thing Hague remembers is of finding himself in this condition, bound and helpless. With the little energy remaining he set about to free himself. How long he was accomplishing this he does not know. But at last his efforts were rewarded by freeing everything but his hands. His hands remained bound and in this condition he set out for home. This was Friday, the time passed in the woods being nearly three days. After walking the distance from the woods to the vicinity in which he lived his mind began to fail him and he could not remember the house in which he lived.

It was now Saturday morning and he acquired of a neighbor of Dysart where Mrs. Dysart lived. Upon being told he was blind, he rapped at the back door, and inquired who lived there. Being recognized was at once taken care of. Dr. William Bain was called and attended to the suffering man. All of Saturday night and Sunday Hague was unconscious, with the exception of a few short lucid intervals, in which he repeated the above narrative.

The sum of which he was robbed was chiefly in the form of two negotiable drafts, one on Milwaukee and the other on a New York bank. The thieves may have trouble in cashing these drafts, and it is the probability of an attempt being made that gives the police a hope that the guilty parties will be apprehended. Besides $20,000 in drafts, Hague had a small sum in cash, a diamond ring, a watch, a gold watch and chain, and a pair of diamond ear-rings in his possession and all were taken from him. With the exception of a farm valued at $1,200 the thieves stripped him of all his property, besides disfiguring his face for life.

Tracks of a carriage that were plainly visible and a Lottie that had contained vitrol were found in the fatal alley, besides a handkerchief and other small articles, which can be used as clues in working up the case by the detectives who have it in hand.

KILLED A BOY THIEF.

A Watchman Shoots a 15-Year-Old Burglar.
CHICAGO, July 8.—George Duane's body is at the morgue and he met a sudden death by being a bad boy and committing a burglary. George was shot by James Allen, a night watchman for Hamilton's agency.

At 5 o'clock this morning Watchman Allen was traveling his beat, near Clinton street and Milwaukee avenue. As he passed the rear of 23 North Jefferson street he saw four boys with a lot of liquor and cigars. A glance was sufficient for the watchman to satisfy himself that the boys had committed a burglary and were dividing the proceeds.

About the time Allen saw the boys they noticed him, and dropping their plunder ran away. The watchman called to them to halt. It had only the effect of accelerating their speed, and Allen drew his revolver. As he chased the fugitives he kept yelling to them to stop, but finding they would not he fired four shots. He claims that his pistol was pointed upward, but at any rate after the last shot one of the lads dropped to the ground. Allen soon was his side and found that the boy had been shot in the head.

Allen hastily called the patrol wagon and it started with the wounded lad to the hospital. Before the institution was reached the boy was dead. Meantime Officer O'Connor of the Desplaines street station gave chase to the other boys and succeeded in catching two of them. They were Stephen Duane, a brother of the dead boy, and Charles Russ. The third boy, William Duane, another brother, got away, but will soon be in custody.

On questioning the boys it was found they had broken into the saloon of James Connell, 39 Milwaukee avenue, and stolen the liquor and cigars. Charges of burglary were entered against the prisoners. Watchman Allen gave himself up and is held at the Desplaines street station.

The Duane boys lived at 63 North Ash street.

George, the boy who was killed, was only 15 years old.

HORRIBLE TRAGEDY AT LA SALLE.

A Man Shoots His Wife Three Times and Himself Twice.
LA SALLE, Ill., July 8.—A most desperate attempt at murder and suicide was made at an early hour this morning. Capt. A. Goshinski of the Polish guards of this city, a sort of military church organist, fired three bullets into the body of his wife, and then, thinking the bloody deed accomplished, tried to end his own existence. The tragedy occurred in the sleeping apartments, occupied by the COUP TO A STORE AT 2 O'CLOCK IN THE MORNING.

The husband entered the bedroom and fired three shots at the woman, two of the bullets taking effect in her head and one in her body. Mrs. Goshinski, in her night-dress and with blood spurting from her wounds, jumped through a window and ran to a neighbor's house a block distant, where she has since been lying in a dying condition.

With two 32-caliber revolvers, one in each hand, the would-be-murderer got onto a balcony of the building, where he defied the police and the fire department was called out. A stream of water was turned on the fiend, when, after reloading his weapons, he placed the muzzle of one revolver in his heart and the other in his ear and shot himself. He is yet alive. The woman is in the hospital. The Rev. Wozny, the Polish Catholic priest of this city. Financial difficulties are assigned as the motive for the deed.

SULLIVAN AND KILRAIN.

Conflicting Reports Concerning the Prize Fight.

A Rumor that the Mill Took Place in Mississippi.

Special to the Gazette.

CHICAGO, July 8, 3 p. m.—A dispatch from New Orleans says that the ring for the Sullivan-Kilrain fight was pitched at Richburg, Mississippi, at 7 o'clock this morning. [Richburg is a hamlet of only thirty people, 104 miles from New Orleans, with no telegraphic facilities.

Early reports say that Sullivan won on the 9th round, and this is contradicted as at 9:30 a. m. the men had not entered the ring.

CINCINNATI, July 8.—It is reported here, that at 11:55 the fight was in progress, with Sullivan getting the best of it. But later reports do not confirm this.

NEW ORLEANS, July 8, 1 p. m.—There is nothing definite from the prize fight.

LATER.—An associated press dispatch states that Sullivan won the fight in the seventy-second round, but this is not confirmed.

HELPED "KILL" CRIMIN.

A Letter Purporting to Have Been Written by a Cronin Conspirator.

BUFFALO, N. Y., July 8.—Sunday afternoon Charles B. Smith of Niagara Falls and William Dretschsch of Suspension Bridge were walking on Three Sisters island at Niagara falls when they discovered an envelope lying at the water's edge. Upon picking it up they found it to contain the following letter:

"NAGARA FALLS, N. Y., May 20.—Dear Brother: I know that what I am about to write will drive the blood from your heart. I am about to bring an end to all my trials and trouble. God knows that life until recently has been as sweet to me as any one, but the strain of late have been too much for me. I can not go into the presence of our Holy Father with my hands so stained. I must ease my mind. Why are you not with me so that I can talk with you? You have been a true friend and I never had more to say to you than now. What a fearful tale I could tell, but dare not put it on paper. For all I know punishment will never be meted out to me on earth for the part I took in it. You can not imagine how I have been tried since I left you. May God forgive it all. When I left you I went right to Chicago, and you can guess from reading the papers as to C.—being missing; how all came out in ridding us of the devilish traitor and spy on our actions. God only knows why such a fearful change has come over me since that night. I left the city at once and hurried to finish the part that had been given to me. My brain is on fire. Oh, I have waited so for the trunk to come. 'Each day's delay has increased my frenzy.' I have a high fever, and now I know the plans for all they were so carefully laid, must have miscarried and I dread the consequences. I cannot stand it any more and I am going to end it all. I wanted you to remember that I have been loyal to Ireland's cause, but now I am sick and broke up ever since that night. My sleep has been filled with fearful dreams, and now after removing from me everything by which I can be identified I shall free myself from any more by suicide, which here is so easy, only one step into the swift current and all is done. My body instead of my shall be picked up and buried with the unknown dead, if ever found. Good-by, Ed. Always be true to Ireland and—"

This letter had lain so long in the water that it was almost impossible to read it. There was an address on the envelope, but it was illegible save for the name "J. J. Welch," which began the surname. The letter is now in the possession of Superintendent Welch. What lends color to the authenticity of the letter is the fact that on June 27 a decomposed body of a man was buried without identification at Drummondsville.

FURNITURE!
 Probabilities That They Will Fight at the Same Time as Kilrain and Sullivan.
 New Orleans, La., July 7.—The gossip
 about the mill fight between Charley Mitchell and Mike Cleary, after the battle of Kilrain and Sullivan to take place in the same ring, is assuming more definite shape.
 A prominent Chicago sporting man
 announces his willingness to back Cleary for $10,000 against Mitchell, while Pony Moore of London has raised $10,000 and is coming with it.
 There is also some talk of a battle between a couple of light weights who are on the ground, and from present appearances the spectators, in place of witnessing a single man, are likely to behold a regular circus.

A WESTERN TOWN BURNED

ELLENSBURG, W. T., DEVAS-TED BY FIRE.

Scores Rendered Homeless and Aid Badly Needed—The Devastating Accident
 —The Casualty Record.

NEW ORLEANS, La., July 8.—Sullivan
 and Kilrain left New Orleans at 3:30 Sunday afternoon on the same train. They were taken outside the city and spent the night in their sleepers. They reached the place designated for the fight at 6 o'clock and wired the fact back to the city. The cars were sidetracked and the pugilists retired to rest.

It was understood that the fight was to begin at 7 o'clock this morning. Sullivan wanted to go to work on his earlier.
 Cleary and Muldoon will second Sullivan,
 with Charley Johnson as bottle-holder.
 Mitchell and Donovan will act for Kilrain,
 while Murphy holds the bottle.

The belief is now that the fight
 would come off at or near Rich's Mill in Mississippi, 103 miles from New Orleans.
 It is in the midst of a thick pine wilderness.
 In Louisiana two companies, the Lani field artillery and the Louisiana rifles, are called out. Of the former only ten men reported for duty, the others reporting themselves out of town, although it is known that they are here but want to go to the fight themselves. Of the rifles only were on hand.

A proclamation was issued by Gov.
 Nichols and served upon the Queen & Crescent railroad, quoting an act of the legislature by which any railroad in the State is required to furnish transportation to the militia whenever called upon by the Governor to do so. Under this act a demand for transportation was made on the railroad Sunday and a train asked for,
 to leave here at 1:30 Monday morning.

No one knows the exact instructions to the militia officers—whether they have been ordered to stop the fight, to simply escort the excursion to the Mississippi and see it out of the State, or whether they are to stand by and see that no disturbance occurs. The natural impression is that some positive interference will be attempted, but it is suggested that the militia may never reach the scene of the battle. Its train may be side-tracked, or the excursionists may go over into Mississippi and then return, the militia may be misled in some way.

Unless some interference occurs the fight will have a larger number of witnesses than any ever fought in this country. The reserved seat tickets, at $15 apiece and 1,900 in number, were all sold by 8 o'clock Sunday morning, and by 6 o'clock at night 2,000 of the $10 tickets
 and 200 of the $15 tickets had been sold.
 Of the refreshment stands, etc., will make close to $40,000 in sight, in addition to the $30,000 stakes to be fought for.

The entire ring, twenty-four feet square,
 was arranged so as to contain only the fighters and, between rounds, their seconds. Immediately outside of and surrounding this ring was a roped space some ten feet wide. At the middle of one side of this ring a small space was roped off for the use of the referee and time-keepers. At the northeast and southwest corners were other small roped squares to be occupied by the seconds of the men during action.
 The remainder of the ring was for the fight for the thirty newspaper men who were fortunate enough to get their applications in soon enough. Of the thirty places thirteen were allotted to New Orleans papers and the remaining seventeen
 to outside journals.

Just outside the reporters, referees, and seconds, was a ring large enough to hold the 1,000 who have $15 tickets and beyond them the common herd.
 The location of the battle-ground was kept a profound secret from everybody.
 The tickets read "New Orleans, Louisiana, destination of excursion train chartered by F. Stephenson," and the railroad people claimed they did not know where the destination was. The telegraph company had made arrangements to strand additional wires to the fighting ground, but the managers refused to tell where the place last selected was so that no dispatches could be sent from the ring.

Two places had been picked out and abandoned since Saturday because of the fact that the authorities were aware of the selection and might meet the excursionists with the police and soldiers. One place was at Abita Springs and the other near Florinville.
 It was then thought that the fight would come off at Honey Lake. There is not a railroad station within 10 miles of this place,
 and it was thought that should the militia
 start in pursuit of the party the track
 would be found impassable after leaving the last station. The prospect of a ten-mile march in long sun would be so discouraging that it was thought the soldier boys would not attempt it.
 Honey Lake is a bit of oasis in the desert of swamp in the Pearl river country
 and is about 20 miles from the battle-ground.
 This spot was selected as the battle-ground Saturday by W. E. Har-dington and Mike Donovan, who met Kilrain
 at Pearl river station, the nearest railroad
 stopping place to Honey Lake, on his way to this city, and accompanied him in.
 Should the military finally drive them
 from this place it was said the crowd would board the cars and run over to the battle-ground. The 200 mile limit called for in the articles of agreement extends some distance into Florida and the fight
 could take place there without interruption.

NEW ORLEANS, La., July 7.—The Kil-
 rain train reached here at 6 o'clock Saturday. There were many thousands of people at the depot to meet the train and there was a scene of wild excitement.

IT IS LAID AT THEIR DOOR.
 The South Fork Club Blamed for the Johnstonville Calamity.

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., July 8.—The board of inquiry, which has just completed a regular session of all the losses, has recommended the South Fork Club, which in Conemaugh valley, made its report to Chairman Gammis, representing Gov.
 Beaver's relief commission. The board divided the sufferers into two classes, the first class being the most needy—generally
 a woman who had lost her husband or son
 and was left with a large family to support with scarcely any property saved.
 These they have placed in the $100 class,
 to which they recommend the payment of $1,000 each. Classes from 2 to 5 are not so destitute, but still in great need.
 To these they recommend payments of from $200 to $500. The recommendation of the committee provide for the immediate disbursement of $1,186,000 to 3,680 different families, or an average of $322 to each family. These 3,680 cases, which include all those who are in immediate need, want 6 includes the heaviest losers, but they are not in immediate want and no recommendation was made in their cases, but they will be considered further along.

After considering all the evidence laid before them the jury returned this verdict:
 "We, the jury of inquest impaneled to investigate the cause of the death of Helen Hite, May 31, do find that Helen Hite came to her death from drowning, and that the drowning was caused by the breaking of the South Fork dam. We further find that there was not a sufficient waste weir, nor was the dam constructed sufficiently strong nor of the proper material to withstand the overflow, and here we find that the owners of the said dam were culpable in not making it so secure as should have been done. We hold the owners are responsible for the fearful loss of life and property resulting from the breaking of the dam."

MUST STAY IN JAIL.
 Judge Tuley Refuses a Habeas-Corpus Writ for J. F. Beggs.

CHICAGO, July 8.—Judge Tuley refused
 Saturday to issue a writ of habeas corpus for John F. Beggs, the Senior Guardian of Camp 20 of the Clan-na-Gael, which condemned Dr. Cronin to death.
 The Court has his refusal to issue the writ on the ground that the petition asked for Beggs' absolute release from jail, and did not ask for the alternative relief of admission to bail, and also because the State's Attorney had not been notified.
 He requested Beggs' attorney to amend
 his petition so as to ask for his client's admission to bail, and to notify the State's Attorney to appear "stay before the court, when he will consider the matter."

 mission to this and European countries

 debt.

Doubtful Fatal Boating Accident.
 NEW ORLEANS, La., July 8.—Thursday morning while three young men, Michael Gil-rain, the miller, and two others, were enjoying a boat ride on the Mississippi, the boat capsized, and the three were drowned.
 Money Point, Claude Stryker, a brother of the superintendent of the mill, and Claude C. White of this city, were out in a boat near the Point, when the miller, Gilrain and his two companions, were drowned.

The Verdict Unanimous.
 W. D. Sult, Druggist, Bippus, Ind.,
 writes: "I have been using Electric Bitters for the very best remedy. Every bottle sold has given relief in every case.
 One man took six bottles, and was cured
 of rheumatism of ten years' standing."
 Abraham Erie, druggist, Belleville, Ohio, writes: "The best thing medicine I have ever handled in my twenty years' experience, is Electric Bitters." Thousands of others have added their testimony, so that the verdict is unanimous that Electric Bitters do cure all diseases of the Liver, Kidney or Bladder. Only a half dollar a bottle at F. Sherer & Co's drugstore.

REVOLVING RITES OF AN AFRICAN CAN TRIBE.

Human Lives Offered as a Sacrifice—Col.
 Wadsworth Gains Another Brilliant Victory.

LONDON, July 8.—By late advices from the west coast of Africa it is learned that a most revolting sacrifice has just taken place in the interior.
 A few months ago the old King of Ebo-di, and, as is customary, traders from New Calabar went up to pay their respects to the new monarch. On their arrival the traders found the "Ju Ju" rites performed on the death of the native King, still in progress, and about five victims had been sacrificed. The old King was still lying in an open grave large enough to accommodate nine of the departed ruler's youngest wives, who had been murdered in the most cruel manner. Each of them had their ankles and wrists broken, so that she could neither walk nor crawl. In this maimed condition, and suffering most excruciating pain, the poor creatures were placed at the bottom of the grave, seven of them lying side by side. The King's body was then placed on them in a transverse direction.
 Then the two remaining women were laid
 by his side.

They were left without food or water to wait for death, which, however, it is said,
 did not come until after four or five days
 of intense suffering. In the meantime four men were chained to the grave,
 armed with clubs, ready to knock backward any of the women who, despite their tortures and their pain, might manage to crawl to the side of the pit.

In other parts of the interior other human sacrifices were taking place. Suspended from various trees were the bodies of several men. They, too, were undergoing agonizing deaths, holes having in most cases been bored through their feet near the ankles. Through these holes ropes were drawn, and the men tied to a high tree, head downward, and left to die.

BOWER CITY DOINGS!

Last Night's Concert at St. Paul's Lutheran Church.

THEY WILL PAY LICENSE.

Many News Items Picked Up for the Readers of the Daily Gazette.

IT WAS A RARE TREAT.

THE CONCERT AT THE GERMAN LUTHERAN CHURCH WELL ATTENDED.

A large audience was present at the German Lutheran church last evening given under the direction of Professor Zinke, by the choir assisted by Pastor Biese, of Clinton, and Mrs. Pastor Wildermuth of Edgerton. The selections on the new organ by Mr. Zinke were well rendered. This gentleman is a splendid organist and his efforts last evening were highly appreciated.

The chorus "O Give Thanks" by the choir was very fine. Each member possesses a strong, well cultivated and pleasing voice, making the effect of all the choruses very entertaining.

The violin and organ solos by Professor Zinke and Pastor E. Biese, of Clinton, were a rare treat to all present. Mr. Biese is a violinist who has few if any equals in the state. [The audience was completely captivated with "Home Sweet Home," which was played with variations. The solo "Bath and Naomi," sung by Mrs. Pastor Wildermuth, of Edgerton, was simply grand. This lady possesses a sweet but powerful voice which is under perfect control.

The solo "Jesus, the Very Thought," by Miss H. Kaiser, was also a beautiful selection and well rendered.

The Heavens are Telling (Creation) and Gloria (XII Mass) were sung by the choir.

During the intermission a collection for the new organ was taken, to which there was a liberal response.

Many people came from the English churches to listen to the music and see the new organ, which is finished in antique oak and is one of the best toned instruments in the city.

The concert in all its parts was well executed. It will be repeated this evening for the benefit of those who could not be present last night. It will be a rare treat for all who can make it convenient to attend.

THE SHERIFF'S SALE.

THE FIFTY PER CENT. BELOW COST STORE CLOSED.

The Sheriff's Sale of Boots and Shoes at 50 per cent below cost has closed. For the past two months this "Cheap John" concern has been doing business on South Main street, in the Myers block. They refused to pay license at the beginning saying that they were here to stay. Diligent watch has been kept up by the authorities and on Saturday they detected them in quietly removing stock to the depot and consigning it to Omaha. The necessary papers were procured, and the manager, Mr. J. Finnelly, was interviewed by Marshal Hogan in an endeavor to collect the license fee due the city. Marshal Hogan captured nine cases of boots and shoes while they were being transported to the depot, and on learning of this Mr. Finnelly agreed to settle. Thinking Janesville was not a very "soft" town in which to evade paying license fees. This is the first case coming up under the new ordinance imposing a tax of five dollars a day on "Cheap John" concerns, and it is very gratifying to the regular dealers that these parties have at last been made to pay, as it is a lesson for others in the future.

The inestimable value of Ayer's Sarsaparilla as a blood purifier should be known to wife and mother. It cures irregularities, gives tone and strength to the vital organs, and cleanses the system of all impurities. The best family medicine.

IT MIGHT HAVE BEEN WORSE.

THE ST. PAUL VESTIBULE DELAYED FIFTY MINUTES.

When the St. Paul vestibule started to pull out from the Northwestern depot at its usual time, 8:45 last evening the big engine by some means got off the track and ran along on the ties for a distance of two or three rods.

As the train had only just started, the engine was stopped almost immediately.

It is the supposition that some engine in passing over the switch had broken the end of one of the rails and thus made it impossible for the limited to pass on the main track.

As the switch was properly placed no one in particular is blamed for the accident. If the train had been in full motion the loss of many lives might have resulted.

The steam chest of the engine was broken in some way. It took about fifty minutes to get the locomotive repaired and on the track, so that the train did not leave the city until 10:35.

The early morning trains were obliged to go through on the middle track. By nine o'clock the switch had been repaired and the trains now pass through as usual.

The Birmingham forgery case came up for trial and the defendant not appearing the bondsmen were given until August 1st to procure their man.

The complaint was made by Andy Gilligan, District Attorney Masona represented Gilligan, H. McKinney, Geo. Hall and J. W. Bates, for W. T. Ingals.

Cold, cough, croup is what philosophers term "the logical sequence." One is very liable to follow the other; but by curing the cold with a dose of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, the cough will be stopped the coffin not needed—just at present.

FIGHTING FOR LIBERTY.

A SECOND WARD BOY'S EXPERIENCE WITH A PET DOG.

An ingenious youth of the second ward wanted to have a little fun with his faithful dog. He procured a strap and tied the dog's legs up in such a manner that it was impossible for the animal to extricate himself.

The dog bore it patiently for a time, but soon became desperate, and fought viciously for liberty. The dust, sticks and glass flew in such clouds in the vicinity, and the dog yelled so piteously that all members of the family rushed out to learn the cause of the disturbance. As soon as this could be ascertained, each in their turn tried to quiet the dog and release him, but he wouldn't be quieted. He tore the ground up for the space of a few rods square in such a way as to make it appear as though a colony of wood chucks resided there. The neighbors were aroused and came to the rescue of something they knew not what. The dog was surrounded by a dozen or fifteen people who succeeded in half an hour's time in giving the poor canine his liberty. For the sake of peace in the second ward the boy has solemnly promised never to interfere with the rights of the family pet again.

PROTECT THE LAMPS.

MANY OF THE LAMPS BEING BROKEN BY UNRELIABLE BOYS.

Ald. Horn, of the gas light committee, says several of the new oil lamps located on the outskirts of the city, have already been broken, notwithstanding the heavy penalties provided in the ordinance as a punishment for such recklessness. All Horn says if the boys are caught they will be compelled to answer to the full extent of the law, and unless those parties residing in the neighborhood of the lamps, use a little precaution and assist in bringing the offenders to justice and punishment, the lamps will be removed to more favored communities. The alderman says that in many cases people have been begging that lamps be located in such and such places, yet they concern themselves the least in regard to breaking glass by the hoodlums, and the last resort of the authorities for the protection of the lamps is removal, which will surely follow.

Mrs. Proctor was 63 years of age the 22d of last February and was known in that vicinity as a very amiable lady and a useful member of society, had been a resident of Rock county for forty years, coming here from Vermont, and was an aunt of Mrs. J. A. Cunningham, of this city.

HE LEAVES ON THE FIRST BOAT.

MIKE CASADAY, OF BASS' CREEK, HERE TO $5,000.

Mike Casaday, an Irishman well known in the city, and who for some time has been employed by Bolle, residing about five miles from the city, recently received notice that the sum of $5,000 awaits his order at his old home in the Emerald Isle. As Mr. Casaday has always been a hard working man on whom fortune has never brilliantly lavished her treasures, the news somewhat shocked the old gentleman's nerves. It was almost too good to be true.

It will be accepted with the greatest pleasure, however, and as soon as it is possible for the funds to arrive Mr. Casaday has declared his intentions to take the first boat for the "land country, to take a vacation among neighbors and friends."

This fortune comes to Mr. Casaday by the death of wealthy relatives in Ireland, and as he is between fifty and sixty years of age it will be duly appreciated.

A YANKEE DOODLE.

UNEXPLODED PATRIOTISM RESERVED FOR EIGHTEEN HUNDRED AND NINETY.

The Beloit Free Press voices the sentiments of hundreds of Janesville people by saying:—For the first time in many years the Fourth of July was not celebrated in this city, in a public way, and the experience of yesterday really inclines us to the opinion that in the case of Independence Day it is not more "honored" in the breach than in the observance. "Yesterday was a stupid day—an unenjoyed day—in this city. There seemed to be something wanting—there was something wanting. There was no business, no people, no music, no oratory, nothing. The day was "flat," stale and unprofitable." Young men and maidens did not know what to do with themselves. Boys and girls were disappointed all the day, old men and women missed that which they had been accustomed to and expected all their lives. In fact the day was un-American—un-Yankee Doodle.

We have now tried the experiment of a 4th of July with the Independence Day part of it left out, and the experiment is not an unqualified success. The Free Press hereby subscribes $10 towards the necessary expense of celebrating the Fourth of July of 1890."

A Madman at Large.

He is a well-known citizen, and his nearest and dearest friends do not suspect his insanity. How do we happen to know about it? Listen: his appetite is gone, he is now spiritless, he doesn't sleep, he has night sweats, he is annoyed by a hacking cough. These symptoms are the forerunners of consumption and death, and he won't be cured. Is it any wonder that we call him a madman? If you are his friend tell him to get a bottle of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery without delay. It will cure him if he takes it in time. It will not miraculously create new lungs when the old ones are nearly gone, but it will restore diseased ones to a healthy condition. Tell him about it, and warn him that in his case delay means death.

EARLY PIONEER DAYS.

Reminiscences of the First Settlers in Milton.

EZRA GOODRICH'S STORY.

Told at the Old Settlers' Gathering at Crystal Springs on July 4th, 1889.

President Ezra Goodrich, of the Old Settlers' Association, delivered an interesting address at the recent meeting of the association at Crystal Springs, July 4th. The address related wholly to the first settlement of the town of Milton, and is of interest to the readers of the Gazette and all residents of the county. The following is the full text:

Fifty years ago to-day, we attended the first Fourth of July celebration held in Rock county. Like this, it was held in the shade of the oaks, on the beautiful banks of the peerless Rock river, and where bustling business now booms in the Bower City.

Janesville then had one lonely log house, the commodious residence of its founder, the Hon. H. F. James, the pioneer representative to the territorial council in 1837. In going to which he walked three days on foot and alone.

The frame for the old "Stage House" was up, which stood where the massive Myers house now stands; General Sheldon had a log house in the woods up the river out of sight; and Judge Holmes had a house down the river which could not be seen; Levi and Samuel St. John lived by the springs about a mile below, and Dr. Heath had a house on the heights by the river about a mile further on.

The stage house was partially enclosed and was to be dedicated that day with a dance.

The brown, sun-burnt, long-haired pioneers were there en masse, and all seemed bent on having a glorious time.

The Declaration of Independence was read, and Frank Kimball delivered an eloquent oration. Governor Dodge was there and made some patriotic remarks; and the pioneers presented the governor with a rare weapon of defense, a seven-shooting revolver, which he accepted with many thanks, and pledged its use (if need be) in defense of our frontiers.

A sumptuous dinner was served on long tables in the shade of the trees, by Charles Stevens, the first landlord of the Janesville Stage house.

The dance was the first one we had ever seen, and we were much amused to see with how much zest the old bachelors took it. It opened at four o'clock in the afternoon, and they did not let up until daylight the next day. This latter fact we got from the diary of a dead pioneer, who had the fortune to secure the company of the sister of a live congressman to dance. He was the lucky owner of a pony which cost him half a beef, but he had to ride six miles bareback, and borrow a gig.

Of the old pioneers, but a few gray-headed veterans now remain. They have crossed over the river, and gone to that bourne from which no traveler returns; and it is well for the few who still are here, to gather together each recurring year, and close up the broken ranks; and thank God for his mercy to them; and greet each other with the cordial grasp of the hospitable old pioneer's hand.

Fifty years ago the Fourth of last July, my father, Joseph Goodrich, the founder of Milton and Milton college, was in Cleveland, Ohio, on his way to Wisconsin, by steam-er up around the lakes. He landed in Milwaukee July 11th, and came out to the Rock river valley in
